Visit Isaiah's Corner: Birds of a Feather

The Everhart Museum's Interactive Gallery for Children

Opening on February 1, 2008

Scranton – January 21, 2008: Looking for a place where children can learn about natural history, science and art in an interactive setting? Come and visit Isaiah's Corner at the Everhart Museum of Natural History, Science & Art where they can experience an exhibit space designed with our youngest visitors in mind. The theme of Isaiah's Corner changes with and complements each of the museum's temporary exhibits, so there is always a new environment with fresh topics for children to learn about in a hands-on way.

Beginning February 1st and continuing through June 1, 2008, Isaiah's Corner: Birds of a Feather, will provide children with a unique opportunity to learn about birds, their environment, and their habitats. Touch, play, create, and discover things about the birds and cultures from our Flocks & Feathers exhibit!

Please note that adult guidance is required at all times. So come to the museum and stop by Isaiah's Corner to learn about birds and all things bird-related with your children. Then go visit our galleries where you and your children can apply your new knowledge of birds in our temporary exhibits, Flocks & Feathers: Birds in Science, Culture and Art, and In the Field: Birding & Research in Lackawanna County. And of course, our display of birds in our permanent "Bird Gallery" always provides the opportunity to see bird specimens from all around the world!

The Everhart Museum is open: noon-4:00 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Monday; 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. on Saturday; and noon-5:00 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is $5/adults, $3/students & seniors, $2/children 6-12, and free to Everhart Museum members.
